

Academic English

Course Description

The Academic English classes concentrate on improving every aspect of your English in order to function in an academic environment. As well as studying grammar and vocabulary, special focus is on writing skills - for essays, reports and academic tasks - and on building communicative competence - for debating, discussing, exploring themes and arguing points of view.

In any typical week, you will work on developing and improving academic English skills and the focus in the classroom is on developing knowledge in this area. This is the ideal course for students also considering taking the IELTS or TOEFL exam and can be used as a foundation course to build overall competence before starting an exam course.

In your Academic English class, you will work on: spoken production, spoken interaction, listening, reading, writing, pronunciation, grammar, vocabulary.
